

Everything you need for effortless expense management

Real-time transaction monitoring

You can see exactly where your money's being spent as it's happening. Why worry about excess spending or potential fraud?

You make the spending rules

Control the parameters yourself. You decide how much employees can spend, and what they can use their expenses for.

Categorise card transactions

You can set up accounting categories that align with the way your company already does business. We're not here to give you more work, we're here to take work away from you.

Detailed expense reports

See every single penny that your employees have spent and where.
